Our University was established with a vision to tackle the emerging challenges in the legal field. It would be an expedition in futility to reiterate the importance of acquiring the requisite skillset and competencies in the field. We toil constantly to enrich our students to develop a superlative acumen of not only the theoretical facets of legal education but also the practical aspects. The University aims at providing its students an understanding of law in its social, economic, political, and scientific contexts, with proficient course content, engaging lectures, ample faculty interactions, and a state-of-the-art library.

Message From The PLACEMENT CELL

The changing paradigm of legal education in India has changed the perception about means and methods of learning law – as we call it, 'first unlearn and then learn', where the students are allowed to challenge the old doctrines and suggest new ones. Dr. Ram Manohar Lohiya National Law University, Lucknow, has not only been a witness to the winds of change sweeping the landscape of legal education in India but also a proud participant in the process. The pride of place, which the university enjoys amongst the law schools, is mainly due to the many laurels brought by its students.

It gives me immense pleasure to introduce a batch of aspiring lawyers, who were admitted to this University through the rigorous Common Law Admission Test ('CLAT') in the year 2016 and shall be graduating in the year 2021. This starry-eyed bunch of talented students has built an excellent super-structure of excellence in varied fields of academia. Be it prestigious national and international moots, academic writing and debating, seminars and symposia, sports, and cultural events, the Batch of 2021 has come through with flying colours, setting new benchmarks for their junior batches.

During their five-year-long stay at the university campus, besides being exposed to a rigorous curriculum in law and allied disciplines, these students have also imbibed presently rare moral values and therefore, look at the socio-legal issues from a blend of pragmatic and ethical perspective.

I take this opportunity to invite you to be a part of the recruitment process for the Batch of 2021 at our campus. As the Chairperson of the Internship and Placement Committee, it would be my proud privilege to host you at RMLNLU and extend to you our warmest hospitality.

Dr. Kumar Askand Pandey,
Chairperson,
Internship and Placement Committee,
Dr. Ram Manohar Lohiya National Law University, Lucknow

FROM THE PEN OF THE BATCH

The Batch of 2021 is a bunch of exuberant and ambitious students, leaving an impression with their hard work, passion, and work-ethics wherever they go. The class comprises of students who are not just academically inclined and committed to the highest of scholarly pursuits but also display a voracious zeal for co-curricular activities, knowing not only how to be the best orators, debaters, researchers, mediators, and authors, but also how to have fun while doing so, taking everyone along as they go.

The student society of the University conducts popular year-round competitions in music, dance, painting, quizzing, debating, creative writing, and sports. The University holds tournaments not just in mainstream sports such as cricket, football, and volleyball, but also less popular sports like Table Tennis and Kabaddi. The batch has strived for excellence in every field and has a strong presence of artists, poets, and sports-persons, adding to the diversity of the peer group.

Apart from having gained invaluable experience and professional skills while being associated with notable advocates, law firms, corporate houses, think tanks, and non-governmental organisations, we have also been instilled with a sense of social responsibility. We have been giving back to the society while working in the capacity of Para-Legal Volunteers with the Legal Aid Committee of the University and rendering a helping hand to NGOs like IDIA and BloodConnect.

The Batch of 2021 has seen immense personal and professional growth through its journey at this university, attributable, in no small part, to the university itself and its contribution through the excellent infrastructure, mentorship and growth opportunities. As we near the end of this journey, our earnest hope is that this growth shines through to you. We hope you will enjoy acquainting yourself with the Batch of 2021 as much as we have enjoyed our development over the past four years.

LIFE AT THE

STUDENT COMMITTEES

RMLNLU aims at producing legal professionals equipped with the skills and vision required to succeed in the professional world. The University has a dynamic student life with the students playing an important role as members of various committees and organisations. The committees comprise various stakeholders, ranging from faculty heads, administrative staff, and student members with each layer contributing to the attainment of the committees' objectives. The students and peers organise all the activities and events leading to the overall development of students. Not only are these committees the best approach to encourage extra-curricular activities but they are also an excellent way to instill the qualities of teamwork and leadership in the students.

Internship and Placement Committee

The Internship and Placement Committee is a student-run body, which works under the able guidance of its faculty advisors to help the students achieve their true potential. The Committee is on the frontline when it comes to introducing students to the professional world. It works towards building new relationships and fostering the existing ones with the corporate world, by understanding its changing requirements, and matching them with diverse individual aspirations of the students. The Committee provides a transparent, credible, and accountable setting between prospective employers and the students. It is an integral part of the University's education system and contributes by organising various personality development and awareness programs. It works tirelessly to secure internships and placements for the students, which form an intrinsic part of law school education.

Cultural Committee

The Cultural Committee, Tehzeeb, captures the essence of the culture of Lucknow, one of the major heritage centres of the country. The Committee has truly lived up to the city's repute for the promotion of art and culture repeatedly. Besides encouraging students to take part in cultural events all over the country, the Committee annually organises a three-day-long cultural extravaganza 'OHR' and provides a platform to the student community to nurture and showcase their talents in the fields of dramatics, music, and art. It is also credited for organising the University's Annual fest 'Riwaayat', which witnesses the participation of students from across the country and provides a platform to talent and expression.

Debate and Discussion Committee

Soon after the foundation of the University, the Debate & Discussion Committee came into existence in 2008. The Committee selects students to represent University in the Debating Events, along with organizing the flagship debate events of the University; namely, Ram Manohar Lohiya Parliamentary Debate and Ram Manohar Lohiya National Hindi Debate. The Committee works tirelessly to embed the highest standards of debating in the University and it has successfully set up the Debating Society under its aegis to facilitate the debating culture.

Journal Committee

It is a very important part of legal education to think independently and to pen them down in a manner that others may have an insight into them. The editorial team at the Journal Committee publishes RMLNLU Law Review and RMLNLU Journal on Communication, Media, Entertainment and Technology Law. The Committee is actively involved in collecting, editing, and improving academic articles for both the journals. Besides this, the committee runs The RMLNLU Law Review Blog and the University's magazine, 'The Lohiyian Post'. The Committee also conducts workshops on legal research and writing and is also responsible in organising the prestigious RMLNLU International Legal Essay Competition.

Legal Aid Committee

Law is widely considered an instrument of social change and improvement. However, the law becomes futile if the aggrieved are not aware of their rights or do not have the means to avail remedies. The Legal Aid Committee is manifesting the dream of our mentor Dr. Ram Manohar Lohiya into reality by working for the upliftment of the poor and downtrodden. Through camps and campaigns, the Committee helps and increases awareness of these people while it approaches leading lawyers to take up pro bono cases for those who seek such help. The Committee works closely with lawyers and local administration to provide relief to the needy. The Committee also promotes alternative dispute resolution procedures by organizing the RMLNLU National Mediation Competition.

Moot Court Committee

The University boasts of laurels secured by its students in national as well as international moots. The Committee plays an important role in pushing the mooting culture of the University towards excellence by organizing practice moots and intra-University moot court competitions based on which various national and international moots are assigned to teams as per their performance. The Committee also organizes its flagship event, RMLNLU-SCCOnline International Media Law Moot Court Competition that witnesses participation from both national and international universities every year.

Sports Committee

Sports are synonymous with talent, discipline, determination, and tireless pursuit towards excellence. Our University recognises the importance of these qualities in all forms. The Sports Committee is tasked with the arduous responsibility of choosing and training the students to represent the University at various national sports events. The Committee also organises various sporting events such as football, cricket, badminton, basketball, table tennis, volleyball, and chess throughout the year. Sports Committee organizes the University's three-day annual sports fest, 'Aavahan' attracting massive participation from across India with a host of sporting as well as informal activities. It also organises an intra sports fest ('FENZA') annually bringing a complete dose of thrill, excitement, and energy and includes Panenka, Sahil Zaidi Memorial Volleyball Tournament, Claim the Hoop, Lohiya Premier League, Battledore, and Balls of Fury.

SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY INITIATIVES

Social responsibility initiatives at the University encourage students to imbibe the qualities of enlightened leadership, and thereby instil in them a level of trust and confidence about themselves and the community. Over the years, the students and faculty at RMLNLU have actively participated in outreach program initiatives where they contribute their knowledge, skills, and technical expertise to the community.

Blood Connect Lucknow

BloodConnect is a youth-run initiative under the BloodConnect foundation, aimed at solving the problem of blood shortage in India. Launched on 1st April 2010 under the National Service Scheme wing of the Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi, the team has been working to ensure a continuous and sufficient supply of blood to government blood banks across India. It has been engaged in helping those in dire need of blood through a dynamic, 24*7 helpline system, along with spreading awareness about the cause throughout the nation by establishing a youth network to eliminate the problem from its root and conducting voluntary blood donation camps on a regular basis. BloodConnect, Lucknow is a relatively new team, with its first RMLNLU inductions taking place in 2016. Despite being a relatively new team, Bloodconnect Lucknow has been doing a tremendous job at the National level and most of the volunteers (belonging to the University) have contributed to BloodConnect in ways more than one. From giving the foundation its President in 2017 to the Executive Vice President in 2020 (both RMLNLU students), BloodConnect Lucknow has come a long way, saving hundreds of lives, and has collected about 1100 units of blood in Lucknow during 2018-2019 alone.

Legal Aid Clinic

Legal Aid Clinic of the University was successfully put into operation by the Legal Aid Committee on August 4, 2015, inaugurated by Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rakesh Tiwari, Senior Judge, Allahabad High Court. In furtherance of the spirit of Article 39A of the Indian Constitution, the Legal Aid Clinic is tasked with the responsibility of providing easily accessible legal relief to the indigents and the backward sections of our society. It works as a primary legal centre where the Para-legal volunteers ('PLVs') from the University provide basic legal assistance to the people. The thrust is on providing services like legal advice and assisting in the drafting of notices, replies, applications, petitions, etc. as per the mandate of the National Legal Services Authority ('NALSA') and provisions of Legal Services Authorities Act, 1987.

Set up at the university main gate, the Clinic is open for two hours every day. The clinic also conducts awareness drives at various targeted areas in and around the city to educate people about their legal rights and reach out to help them. One of the recently started initiatives is Project RTI, which aims to fetch information about the various government policies and organisations, as and when required. The PLVs managing the clinic are selected through a two-stage recruitment process. Trainee Paralegal Volunteers are also inducted through a rigorous interview process to expose and sensitize them to the significance of 'Justice for all'.

The Clinic has received, in the past four years, a plethora of cases ranging from property disputes to transgender rights. Cases related to labour law, criminal law, and consumer disputes have come before the Clinic. Several cases have been referred to an able pool of lawyers working pro bono with the Clinic, and some of the clients were advised to indulge in mediation.

In addition, PLVs also work along with the Legal Aid Committee, RMLNLU by participating in the LAC's Shiksha initiatives, where young, underprivileged children are sensitised to basic issues of law. PLVs have also visited the Lucknow Jail under the Legal Aid Committee's Jail Project, ASHA initiative, where under-trial prisoners are assisted with any possible legal help. The Legal Aid Camp organized annually in a remote location on the outskirts of Lucknow has also seen enthusiastic participation by the PLVs, to aid villagers in both legal and non-legal issues.

Increasing Diversity by Increasing Access to Legal Education (IDIA), UP Chapter

Law schools across the country have, for long, been condemned for the lack of representation of students from the non-elite groups. It is to address this issue that IDIA came into being, i.e. to provide the underprivileged students with the required resources and financial help that they fall short on.

The UP Chapter of the IDIA was started with a similar motivation to help the downtrodden realise their dream of studying in the top law schools of the nation. Working from within the University, the chapter has been actively getting students from all across the state of Uttar Pradesh and training them under its programme. From accommodation to training and mock tests, the students are supported on every front during their preparation. The chapter also organises fundraising events in the University independently and in collaboration with the student committees of the University. The team heads to both Government and private schools of Lucknow and nearby areas to sensitise the students and create awareness regarding CLAT and other competitive law entrance examinations. Participation in the Chapter's activities is not just limited to the students of the University but also the faculty members, who wholeheartedly support the cause and often make generous contributions. The Chapter has been going stronger with each passing year and it hopes to serve its purpose with uprightness and veracity. Over the years, the students and faculty at the RMLNLU have actively participated in outreach program initiatives where they contribute their knowledge, skills, and technical expertise to the community.

The Legal Aid Camp

The Legal Aid Camp is the primary initiative of the Legal Aid Committee and the Legal Aid Clinic. In furtherance of this endeavour, the students go on pre-camp visits in various districts near Lucknow and identify problems of the people living there. According to the problems encountered, a district/village is chosen to set up a camp and then in collaboration with District Legal Services Authority, Block Development Officer, etc. legal help to the residents of rural areas of our society is provided. The Committee also provides for basic health amenities and then this camp is succeeded by various follow-up camps to ensure that the help provided has benefitted the people.

Project Shiksha

The Legal Aid Committee under the Shiksha initiative collaborates with various charity institutions, schools, and institutions working for the welfare of the children and imparting basic education. The topics are varied depending on the age group of the children to be addressed and include basic features of the constitution, sensitization initiatives like road safety, environment protection, and sanitation, etc. In furtherance of this endeavour, the Legal Aid Committee has collaborated with several organisations during the past year.

Project Asha

Legal Aid Committee started a prison project namely Project Asha with the help of District Legal Services Authority ('DLSA') in which students from the university visit the prison to make the prisoners aware of their rights and duties. These students undergo classroom training in law on prison rights and criminal procedure, in general. This project aims to fight for the justice of prisoners, where despite the offer of free legal aid, the benefits of the scheme fail to reach many poor prisoners. The Committee regularly sends some of its members to the Lucknow Central Prison where they inquire about ongoing trials of the prisoners and conduct a survey about other factors. Based on reports prepared by visiting members, further legal aid is provided in association with the DLSA.

Police – Academia Interaction Forum

The initiative was launched to foster research and training in the police department. Under this initiative, students and faculty members of the University designed research activities for the police officers and assist them in understanding the relevant rules and regulations. It also aims to help the investigating officers and police to update their knowledge about legal issues while gaining an insight into the jurisprudence of law.

RESEARCH CENTRES AND SOCIETIES AT THE UNIVERSITY

Centre for Criminal Justice Administration ('CCJA')

The Centre for Criminal Justice Administration was established in the year 2008. It aims to dichotomously promote students' and researchers' interest and influence in the academic discipline and practical application of criminal law. Right from its inception, the CCJA collaborated with the Bureau of Police Research and Development, Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India to conduct a series of training and sensitisation programmes for Prison officials from across the country. CCJA also organised several national seminars on issues of contemporary relevance such as cyber crimes, terrorism, etc. In the year 2010 itself, CCJA undertook a major research project to study the prosecution system in Uttar Pradesh and its report submitted in 2012 made policy recommendations for overhauling the prosecution apparatus. This research project was sponsored by the Department of Higher Education, Government of Uttar Pradesh. Further, under the aegis of the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights, Government of India, CCJA had organised a regional consultation of the states of North India for making recommendations and suggestions on the draft Bill that was later enacted into the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012. In collaboration with the Directorate of Prosecution, Uttar Pradesh, a series of training and capacity building programmes were started by CCJA in 2011-2012. The CCJA is also working on a UNICEF-sponsored mega-project since the year 2016 for strengthening Child Protection System in Uttar Pradesh. The student members of CCJA are also engaged in carrying out research and consultancy projects assigned by the Directorate of Prosecution, Uttar Pradesh in the year 2019-2020. The Centre also manages a blog that accepts academically-oriented submissions, both in the sole discipline of criminal law or intertwined with other socio-legal disciplines, on a rolling basis from members of the legal fraternity.

Debating Society ('DebSoc')

The Society aims to provide students with a platform to hone their skills while debating different motions. The objective of the Society is to offer a challenging and rewarding debating experience to students while teaching critical and strategic thinking skills, high-quality research, and argument framing. These pedagogical objectives subsequently produce competitive debate teams. The Society seeks to create a teamwork environment where students learn to work for their own improvement as well as the success of their peers.

Financial Laws Simplification Project ('FILSIP')

Conceptualized by Excellence Enablers, Finsec Law Advisors, and Association for Development of Securities Market ('ADSM'), the objective of FILSIP is to simplify the financial sector laws in India. Originally drafted a long time ago, or inelegantly drafted in recent times, the laws require coherence and simplicity so that they are better understood and easily complied with. FILSIP aims to simplify and rationalize these laws to enable their better understanding by various stakeholders. The primary exercise of FILSIP, i.e., simplification and redrafting of the financial sector laws is executed by the student volunteers from our university under the guidance of the Organisers. Aimed at the holistic development of the students, FILSIP is a blend of knowledge-based and skill-based education where the students inclined towards the financial sector are committed to improve the state of the regulatory architecture and contribute meaningfully to the financial laws. The project aims to simplify the laws through repositioning of text, elimination of and by suggesting changes to the existing regulations based on their understanding of the law, economics, and the existing financial environment.

Society for Excellence in Arbitration Law ('SEAL')

The Society was formed with an aim to promote academic discourse in the field of arbitration. It regularly organises lectures and discussion sessions on various issues of arbitration. The Society through its arbitration updates, allows students to get a grasp of the prevalent disputes and legal questions. To promote legal scholarship in arbitration, the Society also runs a blog, RMLNLU Arbitration Law Blog. The blog is well-known among the legal fraternity and has been ranked as one of the best arbitration blogs in the world.

Society for Excellence in Corporate and Competition Law ('SECCL')

The Society organises various sessions of discussions and lectures for students to equip themselves with contemporary aspects of company law and its allied fields, including competition law and insolvency and bankruptcy law. The Society opens its doors to students of all batches to acquaint them with the core concepts of the subject as well as to update the students of various amendments and contemporary rulings. By organising guest lectures, the society aims to provide the students with all-round exposure to the current scenarios and introduce to students the subject through the minds of various professionals who have already established themselves in the field.

Society for Excellence in Constitutional Law and Public Policy ('SECLPP')

The Society consists of Constitutional Law enthusiasts who aid the society in organising spirited sessions on trending constitutional law and public policy issues. RECRUITMENT PROCESS

The Recruitment Process is conducted by the Internship and Placement Committee of the University. It is a holistic process, which commences in the month of February, and is aimed at facilitating the reach between graduating students and prospective recruiters. The recruitment process is governed by the Recruitment Process Rules, which outline the duties and responsibilities of the Placement Cell, the Students, as well as the Prospective Recruiters. These rules expedite the procedure to ensure optimal flexibility to the students as well as the recruiters.

The recruiters are encouraged to conduct pre-placement talks highlighting crucial principle features of their organisation, job profile, terms and conditions of employment, remuneration, and other relevant information. The recruiters are urged to indicate their preferred dates for such talks to the Placement Cell either by e-mail or telephonic communication a week prior to their arrival.

In furtherance of the process, the organisations are requested to register themselves with the Placement Cell with their preferred dates in the final placement schedule, by filling the recruitment form. The recruiters are at liberty to determine their eligibility criteria and the policy for the screening and recruitment process. Organisations can also opt for telephonic interviews and interviews via videoconferencing, and the Placement Cell shall facilitate their process as and when required. In case the recruiters do not want to conduct a pre-interview screening, the CVs of the interested and eligible students shall be forwarded to them, before the final interview. The Placement Cell works to ensure that final recruitments are conducted in a fair and transparent manner so as to maximize the interest of both the students and the recruiters.
